Fighting Hunger From The Ground Up™

Grow And Share 2012 Giveaway & Festival

Support this special fundraiser, a day of music, celebration, gardening education, and giveaway of garden starts!

Admission and parking are free, and a large crowd is expected at this 3rd Grow And Share music festival. This all-day event features live music, great food, farm education stations, gardener help booths, free garden plants, and family fun. We will celebrate Springtime and help local residents set their 2012 fresh foods strategy on April 14th!

Logos and/or names of event sponsors will appear in advertisements & flyers distributed to stores throughout Eastern NC and the Triangle!

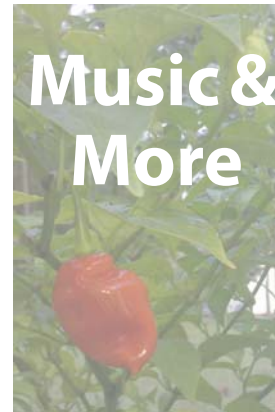

Vendors may set up to sell a variety of wares for attendees' shopping pleasure. Plus, gardening experts, farmers, and local organizations are invited to come and hand out information to help with gardening questions, nutrition, exercise, and local hunger issues.

This music festival is a fundraiser for Grow And Share, a non-profit fighting hunger through widespread gardening, produce sharing, and community building. Your contribution helps Grow And Share with its mission and gives your business, cause, or goods visibility to a focused audience.

Garden plants are given away to gardeners who sign our Pledge To Share their harvest. Seedlings include tomatoes, peppers, cucumbers, melons, and much more.
